Library Update

At its November 9 meeting of the Hopkinton Board of Selectmen, Board members received an update from the Permanent Building Committee regarding the Library Expansion Project. Previously, a town-appointed Permanent Building Committee studied the various options for the new library, and recommended that the Hopkinton construct a new, stand-alone library on a portion of the land behind Center School. However, the School Committee has disclosed that this site will likely not be available for the Town to use for several years. Permanent Building Committee is now exploring the possibility of expanding the Library on its current site, to include an adjacent lot at 9 Church Street. The Committee is still continuing to prepare and application for a Library Construction Grant, which is due in January 2011.
